Mr. Charles W. Chesnutt,
1106 Williamson Building,
Cleveland, Ohio.

Dear Mr. Chesnutt:

In attempting to gain space in our warehouses by removing the plates of books no longer active, we regret to find those of your two books, THE VIEF OF HIS YOUTH and THE HOUSE BEHIND THE CEDARS, of which we have had no stock for some years and the demand for which is so slight as not to justify our reprinting at present manufacturing prices.

Before melting them, however, as we should naturally do, we write to ask if you wish to avail yourself of the clause in your contract which gives you the right to purchase them at half their cost. If so, we should be glad to receive your orders as to their disposition. If not, we should be glad to hear that you have no objection to our disposing of them with others of our books which we are sending to the melting pot.

Very truly yours,

HOUGHTON MIFFELIN COMPANY
